

MAH -MBA/MMS-CET 2008

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

Q.1) I am a reserved category MS candidate, I have secured 39% marks in aggregate at Graduation and 49% marks in aggregate at Post Graduation. Am I eligible to appear at MAH-MBA/MMS-CET 2008?

Ans. Yes, you are eligible. Refer rule No. 2.1

Q.2) I have passed my Graduation in more than one attempt with more than minimum percentage of marks. Am I eligible to appear at MAH-MBA/MMS-CET 2008?

Ans. Yes, you are eligible to appear at CET, however your admission will be subject to fulfillment of the eligibility criteria of the University wherein you may get the admission. Candidates are advised to approach eligibility section of the respective University (wherein the candidate is interested to get the admission) and get the provisional eligibility certificate issued well before the commencement of the CAP.

Q.3) I am Maharashtra State candidate and have not appeared for the All India CET [CAT/XAT/ JMET/ATMA/MAT(held in Feb. 2008)]. Is it necessary for me to appear at MAH-MBA/MMS-CET 2008?

Ans. Yes, it is necessary. You have to register and appear for both MAH-MBA/MMS-CET 2008 and GD,PI.

Q.4) I have appeared for one of the All India CETs [CAT/XAT/ JMET/MAT(held in Feb. 2008)/ATMA]. Is it necessary for me to appear at MAH-MBA/MMS-CET 2008?

Ans. No, it is not necessary to appear at MAH-MBA/MMS-CET 2008.

- Your score of All India CET will be valid for the admission provided the score is more than the cut-off.
- However you have to register both for MAH-MBA/MMS-CET 2008 as well as for GD&PI.

- Further it is mandatory to appear for the GD&PI conducted by Competent Authority of State of Maharashtra for seeking admission through CAP.

Q.5) What is meant by the Cut-off mark in CET?

Ans. The cut-off marks in CET are the minimum score by the candidate which makes the candidate eligible to seek the Admission to MBA/MMS course in the State of Maharashtra. The cut-off mark in MAH-MBA/MMS-CET 2008 is 20 marks out of 200. In case of All India CETs [CAT/XAT/ JMET/MAT(held in Feb. 2008)/ATMA] or GMAT the Cut-off is the percentile in these CETs equivalent to percentile corresponding to 20 marks in MAH-MBA/MMS-CET 2008.

Q.6) My score is less than cut-off in the CET. Can I participate in GD, PI? Will my name appear in Merit List?

Ans. You are permitted to participate in GD&PI provided you have registered for the same. However your name will not appear in Merit list and you are not eligible to get admission to MBA/MMS course in the State of Maharashtra.

Q.7a) Explain who is eligible to appear for MAH-CET, GD& PI?

Ans. Refer following table-

Candidate	Appeared for All India CET?	Can I Appear at MAH-CET?	Should I Appear for GD,PI?
Maharashtra	NO	Yes, Mandatory	Yes, Mandatory
Maharashtra	YES	Yes, but not Mandatory	Yes, Mandatory
OMS	NO	Yes, Mandatory	Yes, Mandatory
OMS	YES	Yes, but not Mandatory	Yes, Mandatory

Q.7b) Explain how the Merit List will be prepared for CAP?

Ans. Refer following table-

Type of Candidate	Appeared for?	Appeared for GD/PI?	Merit List in which the name will appear*-
Maharashtra	MAH-MBA-CET 2008	Yes	Maharashtra State Merit List
Maharashtra	Only for All India CET	Yes	All India Merit List on the basis of score of All India CET only
Maharashtra	Both MAH-MBA-CET 2008 and All India CET	Yes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In Maharashtra state Merit list on the basis of MAH-MBA-CET 2008 • In All India Merit List only on the basis of score of All India CET.
OMS	Only for MAH-MBA-CET 2008	Yes	All India Merit List
OMS	Only for All India CET	Yes	All India Merit List
OMS	Both MAH-MBA-CET 2008 and All India CET	Yes	All India Merit List (Best of the scores of these two CETs will be considered for the Merit list preparation)

* subject to fulfillment of eligibility conditions

Q. 8) I am OMS candidate and have appeared for All India CET and also for MAH-MBA/MMS-CET 2008, how my merit will be decided for ALL India Seats?

Ans. If you have scores in both of the CETs then best of the two scores shall be considered for deciding the merit for ALL India Seats subject to the fulfillment of condition of the cut-off marks.

Q.9) What is the importance of registration for MAH-MBA/MMS-CET 2008? Is it necessary to register for CET even if I have appeared for All India CET?

Ans. Registration for MAH-CET is Mandatory for all candidates irrespective of their appearance in All India CET. Such candidates may not appear for MAH-CET 2008 , however they are required to appear for GD & PI .

Q.10) Which one of the scores of the MAT exams is considered valid?

Ans: For the year 2008-09, the score of the MAT being held in February 2008 will be considered valid.

Q.11) When do I need to submit documents? What is the last date of submission of documents?

Ans. The documents are required to be submitted during the Stage of verification and registration for Centralized Admission Process. This stage is scheduled in May 2008. Candidates are required to arrange for the requisite documents in time (preferably before 30th April 2008). No documents will be accepted after the last date for the verification and confirmation of the Application form for Centralized Admission Process at ARC. Exact schedule for this activity displayed on this web site.

No documents are required to be submitted at the time of online Registration for CET or at the time of online Registration for GD&PI. However personal details such as name (as appearing on the marklist of Std. X), email-id, birth date, permanent address, phone no. etc. are to be entered correctly at the time of Registration for CET. No change is these personal details will be permitted and the candidate alone will be responsible for issues arising out of errors in such entries.

Q.12) I am J &K Migrant candidate. Which rules should I refer to?

Ans. Refer rule 1.3.2 for seats available, rule 2.1 and 2.4 for the eligibility, rule 6.3 for the Admissions Process and Annexure-I for steps of registration for CET, GDPI etc.

Q.13) Where do I need to submit my Work experience certificates?

Ans. Candidates having valid work experience certificates should send their original Work Experience certificates (strictly as per the proforma-G) by registered post to following address, so as to reach on or before 31st May 2008.

The Director,

Sydenham Institute of Management Studies & Research and Entrepreneurship Education (SIMSREE),

B Road, Churchgate, Mumbai 400 020

Marks for work experience will be awarded only after the scrutiny of the certificates received and same will be displayed on the website.

Note: Work Experience certificates which are not as per proforma will be rejected and no marks on account of work experience will be awarded to such candidates.

Q.14) Which are different online Forms to be submitted and activities to be carried out?

Ans: In order to participate in the CAP, aspiring candidate has to fill in and confirm:-

- Online Application form for MAH-MBA/MMS-CET 2008 i.e. Register for CET.
- Online Application form for GD, PI i.e. Register for GDPI.
- Updation, Confirmation and verification of documents at ARC for Centralized Admission i.e. Register for CAP.
- Online Option form for CAP Round-I/II/III
- Attend the CAP Round -IV for personal counseling.